

PREFACE

Once again, we celebrate Cowley County's history. We are grateful to this year's authors for their informative and inspirational papers. The wealth of stories which have been shared, and those just waiting to be shared, verify the fact that Cowley County has a vibrant history. We hope these papers inspire you to continue exploring our county's colorful history.

Understanding this book's content in detail would be accurately a behind-the-scenes

A special thanks is due through its many stages. matched only by her dedication preserved for future generations critical to the project.
